HOLY REDEEMER'S SVDP CONFERENCE

"Giving help and hope one person at a time." The Society of St. Vincent de Paul was founded by a small group of students in Paris in 1835 and now stretches across the globe. Its namesake and patron saint was a sixteenth century priest from Pouy, France who became known as the "Father of the Poor." The Society was unique for its time in that it was formed by lay Catholics, and it offered charity to foreigners as well as non-Catholics. A truly Christian enterprise! Our conference at Holy Redeemer seeks to reflect this Vincentian spirit through our rent and utility assistance program as well as a food pantry, all staffed and funded entirely through volunteers. Our pantry receives food from the parish as well as partner agencies such as the Oregon Food Bank, Safeway, and Nite Hawk Cafe & Lounge. Each conference is governed by a Board of Directors which includes a spiritual advisor and is overseen by the Portland District Council www.svdppdx.org. Meetings take place in the rectory on the second Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. For more information, please contact board president Gordon Oliver oliver.svdp@gmail.com.

FOOD PANTRY

Do you have enough food for yourself or your family? Our pantry offers fresh, frozen and canned food to those in need. Located behind the church, we are open Wednesdays and Saturdays from 2:30 to 4:00 pm. Other food resources include the SVDP website at www.svdppdx.org and foodfinder.oregonfoodbank.org. SVDP is an equal opportunity provider and all requests are treated confidentially.

Fr. Pat's Message

Dear Friends:

As I write this, Pope Francis has just landed in Edmonton, Canada, after a 10-hour flight from Rome. He is beginning a 'pilgrimage of penance' to Canada to offer a formal apology for the harm done by Catholic-run residential schools across the country.

In 1884, the Canadian government made amendments to the Indian Act of 1876 that were adopted and provided for the creation of Indian residential schools. The Indian residential schools in Canada were predominantly funded and operated by the Government of Canada and Roman Catholic, Anglican, Methodist, Presbyterian and United churches. The Catholic Church operated up to 70% of these residential schools.

The purpose of residential schools was to educate indigenous youth but at the same time to assimilate them into Canadian society. Some 150,000 First Nations, Métis and Inuit children were taken from their families during this period and placed in these schools. Sadly, the children were often mistreated, referred to as savages, and forbidden from speaking their languages or practicing their traditions. Many were subjected to abuse, illness and malnutrition.

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission report that investigated Canada's residential school system estimates that some 6,000 indigenous children may have died in the 150 residential schools that were first opened in the 1880s, with the last school being closed in 1998.

One of the TRC report's "Calls to action" was a request for the Pope to apologize for the Catholic Church's role in running the schools. The findings of the report intensified calls from indigenous leaders for a formal apology from Pope Francis. In April, he apologized to an indigenous delegation who had traveled to the Vatican, saying the residential schools caused him "pain and shame."

I am so glad that Pope Francis has undertaken this 'pilgrimage of penance' to Canada, even though his knee ailment is forcing him to use a wheelchair and a cane. While he canceled a planned trip to Africa earlier this month because of severe knee pain, he felt it important to honor his planned trip to Canada to meet with indigenous leaders and their tribal representatives.

My prayer is that his visit, and his formal apology to the indigenous peoples of Canada, can bring some measure of peace and healing after having born this grave injustice for over a hundred years.

When the Church is at its best, it is a staunch defender of human dignity and human rights. After all, Catholic Social teaching begins by affirming that every human being is made in the image and likeness of God. When we have been blind to this truth, we must do penance and ask for forgiveness, as Pope Francis is doing. May the Holy Spirit inspire us to always struggle for peace and justice, especially for those who suffer most in our society and in our world.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Pat.
